

Ease It Out

A private space to make an overwhelming moment feel more manageable.

You don't need to solve everything at once. Just the next clear thing. Answer what you can, skip what doesn't fit yet.

1 Urgent versus can wait

What feels most urgent right now, and what can actually wait?

2 What's in your control

What part of this situation is within your control?

3 What you're telling yourself

What are you telling yourself about everything that needs to get done?

4 One thing to make lighter

If you could make just one thing feel more manageable, what would it be?

5 You've done this before

When have you handled a similarly overwhelming situation better than you expected?

6 The next 10 minutes

What is one small thing you could do in the next 10 minutes that would make things feel slightly lighter?
